COURT.

Jan. Term, 1844.

UPON the petition of Joseph McGuire

Awful Riots and Murders again in Philadelphia.

CAUSE OF THE MOB.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning, after the Native American procession yesterday afternoon, had been almost entirely left in the hands of a few persons who occupied tents, and were obliged to remain upon the ground until morning, a party of about fifty Irishmen made an attack upon them, tore down their tents, and severely beat several individuals. A woman is said to have been seriously maltreated. Considerable excitement prevailed upon the ground this morning. The American Flag attached to the head quarters of the Sixth Ward, Northern Liberties, was torn up and burnt!!!—Other acts of violence was committed.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Chronicle.

PHILADELPHIA, Sunday, July 7.

Dear Sir,—I am sorry to inform you of another tremendous outbreak among the Native Americans and Irish Catholics. You have Friday's news by the papers; on Saturday morning at an early hour, the Natives numbering some thousands, gathered in front of St. Phillip's Church, and continued there till midnight. This morning, Sunday, they again gathered, and there was a great excitement among them.

At 11 o'clock there was not less than 5,000 people on the ground, (Natives) they had three pieces of cannon stationed in front of the church; and demanded possession of it. The Irish Greens, a volunteer company composed of Catholics, were placed in the Church to protect it, but it was no go, the Natives were too strong for them—they sent in a volley of stones, and the Greens in return fired on them; report says one dead and two wounded—one of the wounded was an Irish Green. The mob, now 12 o'clock, in search of the Captain of the Greens, but have not succeeded in finding him. The mob went back to the Church and said that it must be burnt.

2 1/2 o'clock.—The church is in the hands of D. C. Levin, editor of the Sun, who is making a speech to the Natives, and hopes that they will disperse; they cheer him—they are somewhat quieted. Two American flags are placed in front of the steps; the mob says it is no place for the stars and stripes, and they have been removed. The crowd rush into the church and tear up the seats and other fixtures, and have complet-ly gutted the church.

4 o'clock.—An alarm of fire—they say they could not have been fired without bursting the peace. The City Guard remained in possession of the church all Saturday morning.

About half past two o'clock in the afternoon General Cadwallader rode into the street on horseback, and in a short address to those gathered about, endeavored to persuade them to retire to their homes, but without having any effect. Alderman Saunders also used persuasion to get the throng to retire, but in vain.

The Alderman of the district swore in extra constables during the afternoon—ten for each ward.

At 7 o'clock, the sheriff arrived from the city with a posse of about 150 strong.

During the evening the military force was increased. The crowd gradually increased in number and turbulence. Gen. Cadwal-lader then with a platoon of men charged upon the throng in Second street below

Queen street, driving them to Christian st.

The same measures were adopted up Second and in Queen streets, above Third and below Second, and a good many arrests were made by the military and police. In Third street matters appeared to have a serious aspect. Stones having been thrown, and the officers in command struck by them, preparations were made to discharge the field-pieces stationed there. The address of General Cadwallader was received with groans, and he was dared to fire. It is said the General had given the order and the pieces were levelled so as to take effect around the mob, when Charles Naylor, Esq., rushed before the cannon, and either countermanded the order or begged the General not to do so. He was immediately arrested and carried into the church. The determined spirit of the military appeared to check the mob, and they gradually withdraw. The most of the military retired at daylight on Sunday, leaving the church in charge of the Mechanic Rifle and another company said to be the Hibernia Greens.

The crowd rapidly increased in front of the church, and about 11 o'clock threats were made that the church would be attacked, if Mr. Naylor was not released.—

An old four pounder was brought in front of the church, lashed upon timber wheels.

This was loaded and pointed against the door, the mob declaring that they would fire
